BELLEZZA

40 years of beauty through the eyes of Cosmoprof

Wild

We observe the return to authenticity in this beautiful, old-fashioned object: wild boar bristles set in a heavy bakelite pedestal. Could this be the end of the "slicked back" unshaven look?

Museo Museo, venetia

Gentle virility of a distant past...
The memory of a mirror with its quaint reflection, the magical instrument of a daily ritual...
The memory of a grandfather who, with one stroke of his shaving brush, turned himself into a clown with a snowy-white face winking at me to make me smile...
I never knew the gentleness of your caress on my skin, but your lyrical dance remains forever in my memory...

Rodolphe Lombard, hair colourist

Shaving brush, bakelite, mid XXth century, MIP collection.
